The Story

The story goes that some time ago, a mother punished her five-year-old daughter for wasting a roll of expensive gold wrapping paper. Money was tight, and she became even more upset when her child used the gold paper to decorate a box to put under the Christmas tree. Nevertheless, the little girl brought the gift box to her mother the next morning, and then said, "This is for you, Momma."

The mother was embarrassed by her earlier over reaction, but her anger flared again when she opened the box and found it was empty. She spoke to her daughter in a harsh manner. "Don't you know, young lady, when you give someone a present there's supposed to be something inside the package?" She had tears in her eyes and said, "Oh, Momma, it's not empty! I blew kisses into it until it was full." The mother was crushed. She fell on her knees and put her arms around her little girl and begged her forgiveness for her thoughtless anger. An accident took the life of the child only a short time later, and it is told that the mother kept that gold box by her bed for all the years of her life.

People do things that are extremely important to them, and oftentimes, they become hurt when we don't notice or act like it is not important to us. In the hurry of this life, we must make a constant effort to encourage people by taking time to acknowledge what is important to them. My wife says it best when she tells me if it's important to her, it should be important to me because I love her. Jesus exemplified this very thing when the children were brought to Him. Matt 19:13-14 Then some children were brought to Him so that He might lay His hands on them and pray; and the disciples rebuked them. But Jesus said, "Let the children alone, and do not hinder them from coming to Me; for the kingdom of heaven belongs to such as these." Jesus constantly acknowledged those who were overlooked by everyone else. Our God is big enough to notice all that we do, no matter how small.
