The Road to Salvation

The road to salvation begins in many different places. Some are born into a Christian family and never really question their beliefs. Others are born into another faith, or a household of no faith, and for certain reasons question their beliefs and strive to learn the truth. Death, age, health, and relationship issues drive many to seek Christ, and there are the few who just randomly stumble upon faith.

The point is that no matter where your journey begins or at what stage of life it begins, all must converge on the same endpoint, salvation. Paul states that there is one lord, one faith, and one baptism (Ephesians 4:5). Jesus states there is no other way to heaven but through Him, "I am the way, the truth, the life, no one comes to the Father but through me." Peter states, "there is no other name under heaven that has been given among men by which we must be saved." Salvation does not exist separately from Jesus Christ. Once we come to this realization, we must then ask ourselves, what must we do?

This question has existed for 2000 years. People have sought the answer in many ways, with many doctrines, creeds, and opinions. Why are we so against just doing what God tells us to do, repent and be baptized? The answer to that question has to do with the will of man over the will of God.

From almost the beginning of Christianity, followers of Christ have aligned themselves into groups. Even Paul points this out in I Corinthians when he states, "I am of Paul," and "I of Apollos," and "I of Cephas," and "I of Christ."

This division led to people being converted to a person, or a religion and not into Christ. The road of salvation must lead to Jesus Christ, consequentially we must be converted into Christ only. We are commissioned by God Himself to be the guides to others on the road to salvation. We must guide them on the right path, or we will have to answer for being blind guides to the blind.
