Father

Fathers are particularly important. That is not solely my opinion, it is a statistical fact.

Involved fatherhood is linked to better outcomes on nearly every measure of child wellbeing, from cognitive development and educational achievement to self-esteem and pro-social behavior. Children who grow up with involved fathers are: 39% more likely to earn mostly A's in school, 45% less likely to repeat a grade, 60% less likely to be suspended or expelled from school, twice as likely to go to college and find stable employment after high school, 75% less likely to have a teen birth, and 80% less likely to spend time in jail.

If every father were involved in the rearing of their children, it would change the world. I would argue that God choosing to be our father is no accident. God understands we need the guidance, discipline, and love that He provides. Close to 350 times the words God and Father occur together in the bible. God is never referred to in the feminine tense always in the masculine. God in the scripture is always a loving, caring, involved father to us. Correcting us when we are wrong and rewarding us for obedience.

God represents what earthly fathers should to their children. Reliability, God is always present, always ready to listen and respond to our pleas. Dependability, God is never changing, the same yesterday, today, and tomorrow. Sacrificial, God was willing to sacrifice His only Son for our forgiveness.

We have some wonderful fathers in our congregation. They exemplify the Godly fatherly traits we have mentioned. Unfortunately, in our society this is becoming the exception and not always the rule. Encourage the fathers you know to stay faithful and involved in their children's lives. God gave us a father and mother for a reason, we need them both to realize our full potential.
